Hi Anni, I miss you so bad❤️🥰🤗😘

Do you remember that one of the accusations you made against me was that I was stalking you at your place of work, even though I did not even know you were working there? Well, well, well. Anni, who's stalking who at their place of work now?🤪

I passed the CompTIA SecurityX exam today, but I only got the exam results today, not the certificate. I think I will get it within the next few business days.

Now, does getting this certificate improve my situation by any measure? Probably not. In this job market where every entry-level job requires years of related experience, I doubt it will be any help.

I feel so stuck. I don't know why you don't want to talk to me, so I don't know what to do to change it. I feel like no matter what I do, my career will still lie in ruins. I feel like nothing I do matters😞

Anni, talk to me. I love you. I need you🥺❤️
